Strategy Consultant Intern in Renewable Energy & Hydrogen | Brussels Office

Job description

Hinicio is looking for a final year master's student in engineering, physics, chemistry, or similar with a strong interest in sustainable energy and hydrogen industries.

The intern will be part of the consultant team based in Brussels working on one or more projects, typically on the following tasks:

1. Quantitative and qualitative market research.
2. Techno-economic modeling of (renewable) energy systems.
3. Benchmarking of competing for technical solutions.
4. Energy policy and regulatory analysis.
5. Writing client presentations and reports

What we offer

- A 6-month internship in Brussels with the purpose to offer a long-term contract afterward if satisfactory. In the long term, the person could be based in one of our international offices in Paris, Brussels, Bogota, or another.
- An exciting and supportive working environment, where "intrapreneurship" opens doors to opportunities.
- The opportunity to directly impact projects that foster the transformation of the energy system globally.
- A worldwide team of recognized industry experts to train with and guide you in your professional development.

Desired skills & expertise

- Master's student with a degree in engineering, chemistry, physics, or similar from a top university/engineering school.
- Strong interest or experience in the (sustainable) energy business.
- Bright analytical skills combined with a hands-on approach to responding to clients in designing impactful and sustainable solutions.

- Ability to bring projects forward in an exciting international environment.
- Ability to translate complex concepts into actionable recommendations.
- A collaborative spirit motivated to learn, and a positive and entrepreneurial attitude to connect with colleagues and clients.
- Excellent written and oral communication skills in English and French/Dutch.

Nice to have

- Knowledge or experience in one or several of the following areas: energy systems and infrastructure, renewable energies, hydrogen and fuel cell technologies, alternative fuels for mobility, innovation management, public and private project financing, and EU policies.
- Other languages (e.g., Dutch, Spanish, German, or Mandarin) are a plus but not required.
